

TEACHERS EXCURSION

01' FEB -02' FEB-2025

A Teacher's weekend excursion was organized to Chakrata. The two days were rejuvenating and educational. The group learned about village life at its best. We visited an ancient wooden temple built centuries ago dedicated to their deity, Nagraj. Their warmth and hospitality were resonant of an ancient culture. Even their home had unique eco-friendly interiors of wood and mud plaster. Their wool comes from goat and sheep hair, which are woven into the most exquisite rugs and blankets. Their vegetable and fruits were homegrown, and the flavor of wild grasses and ferns was present in the food. A rustic ambiance that has to be experienced and shared. We went for a two-kilometer trek uphill and a visit to Tiger Fall, which is the only waterfall that has a descent of 90% straight down. We met some village folk and learned some of their strange customs, which are still being followed by them. The Teachers enjoyed a lively campfire with songs and dances.
